NTA - PUBLIC RELEASE

*Someone needs to buy a mirror for Mr. Landate***

For decades, the typical use of the PNM playbook by its hierarchy, especially when an election comes around, is - "Yes, we failed to deliver, we are failures, and we are incompetent, but them thief, so bring us back".

Nothing has changed, except that now their trait is to also show dictatorial leanings, thanks to Mr Landate.

So, true to form, Mr Landate wants to talk about an airport construction which occurred over 25 years ago, to justify having the voters return his Government to office, whilst conveniently leaving out the numerous corruption cases and reports under the same PNM, before and after the Piarco issue, including his own Government officials under his watch being charged for corruption, and his own Government of which he was a part of, trying to buy defective OPVs for over 1 billion TT more than what was being offered by several other countries. I ask all to type BAE- corruption, and you would see a thread of reports numbering over 15 countries accusing BAE of paying kickbacks to Government officials.

So back to the present, Mr Landate realized that when you say the same lie over and over again in this country, a few gullible political puppets might believe it, just as he did with Emailgate, which we now know is his style, that was shown to have 17 irregularities to confirm that what he presented was a faked typewritten report, littered with lies, in the hope that it could influence persons. But by laying it in Parliament, he avoided legal consequences, because of Parliamentary Privilege.

His plan was to achieve the same goal, when he accused others of corruption with regards to legal firearms, with politicians handpicking civilians, paying them millions of taxpayers dollars, and then having them submit fake and false reports, which are also littered with lies, in the hope that yet again they can smear those opposed to the government.

Thankfully, we have an independent justice system that stopped him from executing his plan, putting him in his place, as his hope to go to Parliament to read fake reports about others failed. His false accusations also backfired, as after 2 years, not one shred of evidence to support his false statements about legal firearms have materialized, and in fact, several court rulings have proven the opposite, which unfortunately will see taxpayers paying tens of millions of dollars in damages and legal fees, due to the stupidity and failed plot of Mr Landate.

The court thankfully blocked Mr Landate from his plan of Emailgate reloaded, so it should indeed be appropriate that someone should now go to Courts Megastore to buy a mirror for Mr Landate, so that he can take a long hard look at himself the next time he decides to accuse others of anything.
